PERSONAL STATEMENT FOR APPLICATION

All programs (except DMin and CAPS)

Please answer all of the following questions in a maximum of six pages. Your statement must be typed, double-spaced, and include your name and the date.

1. What are your vocational and professional goals? How will this program support these goals?
2. What and who have been the formative faith and life influences that led you to pursue these goals?
3. How have your faith, life, and worldview been affected by the pluralistic nature of today's world (e.g., class, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender identity, etcetera)?
4. Select what you understand to be one of today's most critical issues and reflect on it in terms of your own theological perspective.
5. Describe your leadership experience and/or your capacity for leadership. Have you had experiences in which you took a stand that was different from others in a group or organization? Have you had experiences in which you have helped people work together toward a common goal? (CSR applicants: please address your leadership in the area of sexuality and religion.)
6. What is your reason for applying to Pacific School of Religion in particular?

Additional questions for Master of Divinity applicants only

7. Identify the community of faith that will provide the context for your ministry. How will this community shape your ministry?
8. How will serious academic study support your preparation for ministry?

DMin and CAPS only

Please respond to the following three questions in an essay of 250 to 500 words (a maximum of two pages). Your statement must be typed, double-spaced, and include your name and the date.

1. Describe your community of faith and your leadership within that community.
2. Identify the most critical issues facing your community of faith.
3. Describe how participation in PSR's DMin or CAPS program can assist you in addressing the critical issues you have identified. What are the academic resources at PSR that would be most helpful to you, and how would you engage with these resources?

Additional question for DMin applicants only

Please respond to the following additional question in no more than 500 words (two typed, double-spaced pages with your name and the date).

4. Proposed area of study: _____

Describe the focus of your proposed research project. Which of the critical issues in ministry identified in your answer to question 2 above will you explore, and how will you explore it? What is the context of your research project (the churches, communities, and geographic locations in which your research will take place; the history of the ministry issue that will be your focus)? Give as much detail as you can in the space available, and keep in mind the DMin's interdisciplinary design, ecumenical intention, and attention to critical cross-cultural scholarly resources.

Additional document for DMin applicants only

Please attach a curriculum vitae (resumé) that lists:

1. Your present and past professional positions (including the names of the employing churches or organizations, with dates and locations) in chronological order
2. Present and past denominational/judiciary responsibilities or other leadership positions you have held in your church or other organizations
3. Continuing education (including name of institution, dates, course(s), or activities)
4. Present and past community activities
