Pacific School of Religion

PSR prepares a diverse cadre of spiritually rooted leaders with the vision, resilience, and skill to create a world where we all thrive.

We are a progressive Christian seminary and graduate school.

We are committed to serving the church and non-profit organizations.

We welcome students from all denominations and religious backgrounds.

We believe embracing diversity is integral to social change.

We strive to create a culture that encourages, supports and celebrates our unique differences.

We teach a radically inclusive Gospel, one that compels us to take courage and press ahead.

We are PSR: Unafraid Since 1866

At PSR we're called to stand up. There are churches to reimagine. There are lives to restore. The fight for justice and equality must continue. New demands for climate action must be made.

A history of being on the right side of history

PSR's legacy was formed in defining moments, and now it is our generation's turn. Today we stand at the beginning of a new era – ready to meet its challenges, as we always have, with everything we are.

The PSR Difference

We know that the traditional seminary model doesn't fit today's reality. We've lived through a pandemic, church attendance is in a decades long decline, and the barriers to access and affordability are higher than ever.

You're a new breed of student, PSR is a new breed of education.

Building a Diverse Future

We offer a theological education devoted to the radically inclusive gospel. We welcome students with diverse theological views and cultural backgrounds, new college grads and second-career professionals. PSR has a long history of supporting LGBTQ+ students and is a majority people of color (POC) community— from the board to the student body. Anti-racism and radical inclusion are core to our curriculum and the way we communicate. We exist for underserved people because when we orient ourselves around the needs of the marginalized, the entire community succeeds.

Flexible, Stackable Curriculum

Our stackable curriculum allows students to attend full-time or part-time, on or off-campus and earn degrees and certificates as you progress through your education. While working towards a Master of Divinity you'll progressively earn a Graduate Certificate and a Master of Arts in Social Transformation along the way. A Doctor of Ministry degree can be finished in as little as two years or be completed over six years. You can even stack select courses from across vast course offerings through the Graduate Theological Union (GTU) for a tailored education that matches your vocational and financial realities.

Leadership Development

Effective, spiritually rooted leadership is harder than ever. That's why we fuse theological study with spiritual formation and leadership development, equipping students with effective social change strategies for leadership in churches and non-profits. PSR offers multiple flexible opportunities for leadership development in addition to our graduate programs and certificates. The Ignite Institute, The Center for LGBTQ and Gender Studies in Religion (CLGS), and the Theological Education for Leadership (TEL) program offer accessible options from podcasts and lecture series to online courses.

Badè Museum of Biblical Archaeology

A window into the ancient past of Israelite society

The core of the Badè's collection consists of materials from the site of Tell en-Nasbeh, excavated under the direction of William F. Badè. Dr. Badè's work at Tell en-Nasbeh between 1926 to 1935 represents one of the earliest scientific excavations in Palestine. He was able to excavate two-thirds of the eight-acre tell, or mound, exposing a small town that had been occupied at the time of the Hebrew monarchy.

Ongoing research of specific artifacts and object types from the collection is done by museum staff and visiting scholars. This work has led to numerous publications, exhibits, lectures on the collection.
